— FASTER, NO MATTER THE COST

Daredevil Zef Eisenberg was a legend in the world of land speed records, where his legacy lives on.

On 2019 he set up to break the British land speed record in a car engineered by himself.

To do so, Zef traveled the nation to meet fellow motoring mavericks and drive their incredible vehicles. Inspired by these extraordinary machines, Zef challenged his own team to take a different vehicle each week and make it as fast as humanly possible.

Whether it's putting a jet engine into a motorbike or adding hydraulic jacks to an unstoppable off-road racer, Zef got under the bonnet of Britain's best cars, bikes and boats.

The knowledge the Speed Freaks team gained was crucial because at the end of six part series, Zef and his team prepared Zef's specially built 1200hp road-legal Porsche 911 Turbo S for his death-defying record attempt at Pendine Sands.
