Secret Royal Homes
with Hugh Bonneville

Sharing privileged access and untold royal stories that changed history.

Dive into this exclusive all-access tour with Hugh Bonneville as your host and guide to stunning stately homes that all have one thing in common – each harbors a wealth of hidden, royal secrets.

Many of these impressive mansions have been homes to historic royals; some secluded hideaways where royals could flee from prying eyes; others the setting for little-known lavish royal visits and parties. None are the royal palaces the public already know inside out. Secret Royal Homes will give viewers privileged access to little-known homes, all brimming with unreported royal stories - many of which have never been featured in a TV docuseries before.

In themed episodes featuring multiple properties, these untold stories will be brought to life, with full access granted by the owners or custodians who take viewers on an exclusive tour behind the scenes. We'll uncover all their royal stories – from eye-wateringly lavish royal visits, through to scandals, friendships, love affairs, and events that changed the course of history.
